Descrição

According to Teleweb, evidence shows that access to information, counselling and online self-help programs plays an important role in suicide prevention, crisis advice and treatment of high prevalence mental disorders such as anxiety and depression. Online and telephone based services provide an accessible and anonymous service which people can access without having to leave the privacy of their homes.

Who benefits? Individuals across Australia who experience mild to moderate mental disorders such as anxiety and depression who may not currently receive treatment and particularly those people in rural and remote areas who face barriers in accessing face-to-face services.

Teleweb commenced in July 2006. All the projects listed below are operational and available nationally.

- Blue Knot Foundation - a telephone and online support service to those seeking help for complex trauma from childhood.
- Black Dog Institute programs: myCompass - an interactive self-help service that aims to promote resilience and well-being; and BITEBACK - an interactive website for young people.

The screenshot shows the Australian Government Department of Health website. The header includes the Australian Government logo, the text 'The Department of Health', and navigation links for 'Related Websites', 'Popular', and 'Follow'. A search bar is located in the top right corner. The main navigation menu includes 'Ministers', 'For Consumers', 'For Health Professionals', 'About us', 'Media Centre', 'Programs & Campaigns', 'Resources', and 'Ageing & Aged Care'. The breadcrumb trail reads: 'Home / For Consumers / Education and Prevention / Mental Health / Programs'. The main heading is 'Teleweb'. The text below reads: 'Teleweb (the Telephone Counselling, Self Help and Web-based Support Programmes measure) provides evidence-based telephone and online mental health programmes for individuals with common mental health disorders and those in psychosocial crisis.' A date stamp indicates 'Page last updated: 16 March 2017'. A link is provided: 'There are a number of digital mental health elements in the Australian Government's Response to the National Mental Health Commission's Contributing Lives, Thriving Communities - Review of Mental Health Programmes and Services.' A note states: 'Please see below for a list of telephone and web-based mental health services currently funded by the Australian Government.' On the right side, there is a 'Listen' button and a sidebar titled 'EDUCATION AND PREVENTION' with a list of categories: Alcohol, Child and Youth Health, Environmental Health, Illicit Drugs, Immunisation, Injury Prevention, International monitoring, and Maternal and Infant Health.
